Tory Hill school renovations are approved by council

by MARTIN BIEFER
Echo Editor

The Tory Hill school has received a new lease on life.

At a public meeting last Wednesday night a crowd of about 25 people voted unanimously in favor of building repairs. The entire Monmouth township council was present at the meeting, and all voiced their approval of funding the school project.

On Monday night, council voted to begin the renovation work as soon as possible.

The meeting, held at the school, turned out to be a discussion of how much repair work could be carried out, rather than whether or not work should be done.

Unanimous

Ken Noble chaired the meeting, and prefaced his remarks by saying he was glad to "see people out here tonight" in the rainy weather.

He outlined the recent history of the school, which was purchased by Monmouth township from the MTC for $5,005.

The MTC had purchased it because of its proximity to highway 121, Noble explained. At one time they planned to alter the highway, and would have needed the school property.

However, plans have changed.

Noble said that at least $5,088 in provincial grants are readily available for renovating the building. Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman said that other MNR grants could bring that figure up to between $7,000 and $8,000 -- money that could be used right away.

Although that figure might seem like a lot of money to some people, Noble explained that available funding "would cover labor and a small amount of materials."

A lot of work is needed to re-vamp the building for a renewed life as a community centre. Noble explained that the partition between the front room and the back room would be removed. The existing 15-foot ceiling would be dropped to nine feet, with insulation added above.

Flourescent lights would replace the existing bulbs, and smaller windows would be needed to replace the wall of glass now in place. The large windows "are extremely cold in the winter" pointed out rec board member Hubert Dunford of Tory Hill.

each. The complete project as envisaged by the rec board might cost up to $20,000, he said.

"We're not looking at doing the whole thing right now...but at doing what's necessary to make the building a little more comfortable," he said.

"I'm sure more grants will be available later on," said reeve Tallman. And the cost of $20,000 would be cheaper than putting in a new building the same size -- that cost was estimated at over $35,000, he said.

Tallman also said that the school could be considered when the new budget is brought in next year, and some funding from the municipality's general revenue fund could be made available. The combined rec board has a budget of $50,000, he said.

Ruth Strong asked how much the building would be used after the money was spent on it. Irma

Forest association prepares for job program

Dysart municipal council has given its approval in principal for the municipality to handle the administration of a proposed forestry program, planned by the Haliburton County Forest Owners Association.

The HCFOA met Tuesday night to go over some of the specifics of their program.

President Curry Bishop said Tuesday that the HCFOA is going after funding from the Unemployment Insurance Job Creation Program (forestry sector), made available through the Canada Forest Service and Environment Canada.

"We know more about what we have to do," said Bishop. Due to the newness of the HCFOA "we do not have enough credibility yet to become employers as such." For that reason, the Dysart municipal council is being asked to help with accounting and payroll administration.

Reeve Murray Fearrey told council Monday that some research would have to be carried out on the logistics of the municipality administering the program.

Bishop explained that unlike the NEED program the forestry job creation program is not aimed at UIC exhaustees, but to those now on unemployment insurance.

The program could provide up to 50 weeks of work at a salary of $240 a week, he said. If all goes according to plan, the program could begin hiring as early as the late winter, he pointed out.

"Under the program, the employer is allowed to supplement salaries with an additional $60 a week," said Bishop. However, since the HCFOA is not a money-making concern at this point, "we're not really in a position to do that at this time," he said.

At the end of 50 weeks on the job there is provision to extend the program for six weeks, and Bishop is optimistic that the federally-funded project will be extended past its current concluding date of December, 1983.

The HCFOA is interested in at least one or possibly two crews, who would, in the first instance, perform brushing and forest management at the direction of natural resources personnel. Each crew would comprise a foreman and six workers, he said.

At the end of the first program the HCFOA will be able to review the results and see "what they can do."

After a review "we'll be able to change the structure of the program depending on the funding available and on our ability."

Dan Buhl, a forester with experience in German management procedures, will be the "field man" for the project.

Since its inception this fall the HCFOA has advocated better management of private forest resources in the county.

The association would like to see long-term policies begun now to replenish the once-plentiful hardwood stands in the area, to foster an increase in the commercial lumber business.

Plans announced for $3 million "time sharing" resort

A developer has plans to build a $3 million, 35-unit "time-sharing" resort in the Haliburton area -- and hopes to purchase lakefront property "very close to the village" later this week.

Larry Bailey of Sherwood Developments told Dysart council Monday that his organization hopes to establish a four-season resort in the area, a facility "that would be both appealing and affordable."

He said his company has looked at three parcels of land near Haliburton. Reeve Murray Fearrey asked that the specific locations of the parcels be withheld from publication "in case it drives up the price" of the property.

Ambitious plan

Bailey said Sherwood Developments wants to establish a series of cottage-like wooden chalets that would be sold on a "time-sharing" basis.

Under a time-sharing system, a group of people would band together to buy a resort unit -- and would then share its use for specific times during the year.

If four couples were to buy a unit, each couple would have the use of the chalet for 13 weeks a year. The couple could rent the chalet to friends as well.

Bailey said the plans call for heavily wooded lots and buildings that are "rustic on the outside, and modern within." The chalets would be equipped with "everything but food and clothing," he explained.

The development would also have a recreation centre, a small convenience store, two tennis courts, and a swimming pool. The pool and tennis courts are to be "enclosed by (geodesic) bubbles," said Bailey, to permit their use year round. A small beach would also be constructed, he said.

Haliburton has been chosen by the company because of its close proximity to "good skiing, hunting and golfing...it's a four season resort," said Bailey.

The development would mean more tax dollars for the municipality, more tourist employment, and spin-off business for the local commercial sector.

Feedback

Bailey said his company is "prepared to follow every requirement you have...within reason."

"Can we have that in writing," joked Reeve Murray Fearrey. He said council "knows this is the coming thing" but stressed that municipal guidelines must be followed. He said new tourism development is welcomed here, but advised Bailey to meet with Derrell Stamp to discuss the specifics of his proposal. He said the municipality would like to find out more about Bailey's company and its operations.

"You're going to get opposition" from cottagers on the lake, said the reeve. Councillor Lloyd Leadbeater agreed that the developers "have to be aware" of possible opposition to the plan.

However, both Leadbeater and Fearrey expressed interest in the new idea. Leadbeater said he could not think of a reason to oppose the plan, while Fearrey said he was "anxious to see you do something with it."

Lakefront land in the area would have to be re-designated from "rural" zoning, the meeting was told.

Bailey said he had come to see what the reaction of the council would be to the plan. He said the development would bring in more tourists -- perhaps from the United States.

"I'm an American, and I can tell you that we're not used to seeing clean water," he joked.

"Our job is to keep it that way," said reeve Fearrey.

New councillors sworn in

The new Dysart municipal council was ushered into office Monday morning with a reminder that they should follow the legislative example of biblical King Solomon -- and strive for wisdom and impartiality.

Reverend John Smith conducted the inaugural service after the members of council took their oaths of office. Noting that it was "a very important position" that the council members were undertaking, Rev Smith read from the first book of Kings, verse three.

In that passage, Solomon, as he assumes the throne vacated by his father David, is asked by God "what shall I give thee."

Solomon asked for the wisdom to understand problems -- rather than riches or the punishment of his enemies, and God said that "after thee (neither) shall any arise like unto thee" as far as leading and directing people is concerned.

Dysart deals with CUPE wages, MNR talks

A lot of business was accomplished December 6 as the new council assembled for its first meeting.

Council was informed that an inspection of dumps in the area had come up with generally good findings. MNR officials pointed out that the Harcourt Park dump "was less than half covered" but Haliburton, Ellen Lake, West Guilford and Schwanndump sites checked out fine.

The hydro bill for streetlights in Dysart has been estimated at $5,500 by Ontario Hydro.

Council received a notice of intent to bargain from the municipal staff, who belong to CUPE. The letter pointed to Ontario Bill 179's provision for five per cent raises for all municipal employees. The staff contract runs out at the end of the year.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said the municipality is ready to negotiate, and are interested in "planned holidays" for staff.

If all staff holidays could occur within the same period -- perhaps in July -- the reeve said the municipality would not have to endure shortages of manpower throughout the rest of the year.

Councillor Glen Hodgson asked if staff members could receive more than five per cent salary increases, for merit. Reeve Fearrey pointed out that if the present wording of Bill 179 is not changed a five per cent raise is mandatory, and all staff members would get raises, he said.

A letter was received from the township of Laxton, Digby and Longforth expressing interest in Dysart's public entertainment by-law. The council there is contemplating similar legislation, to try and gain some control over events like rock concerts.

Council agreed to send a copy of their by-law to Laxton, Digby and Longforth. The Dysart by-law was passed with rock concerts in mind, and what Reeve Fearrey perceived as problems in Minden.

"Ask Dean Elliott...he says they don't have any problems" in Minden, he said with a laugh.

Dysart will carry out a municipal housing survey in conjunction with Glamorgan township to gauge interest in more housing programs. In Dysart the rural and native housing program has been implemented, and CMHC funding was also used in the construction of apartment units here.

A series of open houses and public meetings will be held, sometime in January, said Derrell Stamp.

Reeve Fearrey reported on his trip to Toronto, where he was given the opportunity to voice county concerns on the proposed MNR land use strategy to minister Alan Pope.

The reeve said the hall was filled to overflowing with municipal representatives.

The reeve made Pope aware of county concerns about a proposed provincial park (not central enough to bring in much tourism), fisheries, and deer yards.

Pope did not respond to any questions -- he was there purely to listen -- and the reeve said he had to wait in line two hours before a microphone became free.

The tree cutting by-law is now in effect in Dysart, and fines will be levied for infractions. No cutting can take place closer than 50 feet from roadways or closer than 300 feet from water. As well, trees with trunk diameters of less than a foot must be left standing.

The fines aren't light...by-law offenders can be forced to pay up to $5,000 for infractions.

High lake levels causing problems

The cold weather being experienced in the Highlands may prove extremely troublesome with respect to the level of water in our lakes.

Larry Podmore of Drag Lake said Monday that his water level had risen by nearly an inch over the week-end -- and was 16 inches above its level of last year.

He said high water levels at freeze-up time could be disastrous for docks and boats. As well, he said that an early freeze-up could mean dangerous ice conditions on lakes.

As we went to press Tuesday snow had fallen, and the warm temperatures of the previous week had begun to fall.

An unusual year

Bill Kitchen, a water control engineer for the Trent Severn Waterway, agreed Monday that a quick freeze-up could cause problems in the water system -- especially in its lower sections.

He said lacks are at an unusually high level in Haliburton County. "Drag lake is at 90 per cent of its capacity today," he said Monday. But Twelve Mile, Horseshoe, Gull and Moore's lakes are all at 110 per cent of capacity, added Kitchen.

"There's not much we can do to help them," he said of the four lakes. Levels in Drag and Kashiagawigamog lakes could be lowered by removing stop logs, he said.

"We're trying to move out the water as fast as we can...the dams on the Otonabee are nearly wide open," said Kitchen.

He said if the "reservoir" lakes in the Highlands were to freeze up it would not cause too much damage -- so long as only the surface freezes. "One inch of ice is different than two feet," he said, adding that surface freezing wouldn't damage "a great deal."

What's the biggest worry to Kitchen is "frazzle" ice -- a slush formed by water that is cold enough to freeze up, but moving too fast to do so.

The frazzle ice can cause problems at hydro stations, and can form drags on rivers -- causing severe flooding and damage to river banks.

The conditions this year have "been unusual" in that we have had both cold spells and warm weather, said Kitchen. A lot of rain in recent weeks has made water control "abnormally difficult," he added. Water levels in reservoir lakes are high, he added, as a result of snow melt and rain.

If all goes to plan water will be let out gradually and water levels should peak this week. If there is a freeze-up Kitchen admits there could be problems -- although the first layers of ice might be thin enough to cause little damage. Often, he said, the first layer of ice sinks harmlessly to the bottom of the lake, surfacing gently in the spring.

Victoria County aids Vic-Ply unemployed

Coboconk residents thrown out of work by the closing of the Vic-Ply plant have been given help by the county of Victoria.

Victoria County's social services committee met in Lindsay Monday afternoon and agreed to extend welfare benefits to those "former employees of Vic-Ply in Coboconk" now out of work. Burt Costello of the welfare office said that about 20 of the 53 workers who were permanently laid off this fall are still without jobs.

The resolution passed Monday permits those laid off from Vic-Ply to re-apply for welfare benefits -- and states that benefits will continue to be paid out as long as the county welfare office is satisfied that "they are willing to (take) any full-time, part-time or casual employment...that they are physically capable of, and that they are making reasonable efforts to secure such employment." Their re-application rights are effective as of December 1.

The cases of the former Vic-Ply staffers will be reviewed by the county social services committee next month, said Costello.

Province should help

Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins says he's glad the workers are being helped. Their unemployment insurance benefits had run out, he said, and for many welfare was the only way to turn.

However, he said that the extended welfare payments offer "temporary assistance" to the workers, who need something "much more permanent."

"Immediate assistance for the short term is not the answer to a long-term problem," he said. He criticized the province for not assisting the county of Victoria directly. "They're letting the municipality take money out of their budget to help. The problems (of unemployment) are just as real in rural areas as they are in the big cities, and the province should address them," he said.

Eakins said he has written to Frank Miller, Ontario's treasurer, asking for a winter works program (such as NEED) for Coboconk. He said he's received no reply as yet.

"There's got to be something else for these people," said Eakins. He said he will do the best he can to put pressure on the province to deal with problems in Coboconk.

ville and North Bay offices have been notified, stated Snow.

Councillor Glen Hodgson speculated that the county "will object to taking over the road" if it proves to be unsafe.

Hodgson also pointed out that motorists face two grades -- both on the turnoff and on the new portion of highway 519. There is a gentle rise on 519 before the steep hill of the turnoff -- and Hodgson thinks the combination will be treacherous in winter driving conditions.

Reeve Fearrey said that Bob Bishop of Sir Sam's ski area will keep council informed about problems at the turnoff.

A petition was delivered to the November meeting of Dysart council. The 100 signers objected to the sharp 180-degree uphill bend in the road connecting new highway 519 and the Sir Sam's road, and felt traffic coming from highway 35 would be slowed to a crawl as a result of it.

Eakins calls for probe of diesel fuel colored dye

Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins intends to call for an investigation into the use of colored dye in diesel fuel -- and its effect on tractor engines.

The Ontario government ordered the dye to be added to diesel fuel "for off-road equipment use, to make sure that the non-taxable fuel is not being used for on-road vehicles," said Eakins in a statement last week.

"I have received numerous complaints from farmers over problems that have developed with the fuel systems on their diesel tractors since the colored dye additive has become mandatory," he said. "I have been told by farmers that the colored dye blotches up fuel pumps, filters, and injectors."

An official from the provincial revenue ministry, who refused to allow his name to be used, said the claims of engine damage "are ill-founded."

"There is no evidence that adding dye to fuel clogs fuel filters," added the spokesman.

He suggested that there might be other pollutants in the fuel that could be causing filter damage, and said the ministry would act on requests to monitor the use of dyed fuel or do "whatever it takes...to see if dye is causing problems."

Manufacturers alerted

Eakins stated that Liberal MPP Jim McGuigan has written "to all major tractor manufacturers, urging that they conduct tests on their diesel equipment with the colored dye."

While the Ford Motor Company has stated they would not void a warranty if colored fuel were used in one of their vehicles, Eakins said, "they have indicated that if the coloring compound was diagnosed to be the cause of a failure, then they would have to decline warranty."

Ford says there is a "risk" that dye materials may react to combustion, forming deposits which foul up injectors; or, that they create an ash abrasive to engine parts, reported the MPP.

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture passed a resolution last week urging the government to stop using the dye.

"I am immediately urging the minister of revenue to act at once to clear up these concerns," said Eakins.

Doctor Harry E Good: one of the last of the old-time country doctors

by MARTIN BIEFER

Echo Editor

The village of Haliburton has almost completely changed since Dr Harry E Good began his practice here.

"Nothing is the same as when I came here," points out the doctor, who began his practice back in 1953.

He's seen the Legion built, the Dysart Community Centre constructed, the post office changed, many businesses on the main street rebuilt and re-located...while maintaining a good old-fashioned country doctor's type of practice.

With an increase in patients brought about by the growing number of cottagers in the area Dr Good now has over 9,000 local medical files -- but still has time to make house calls and his regular weekly stopover in Kinmount, to visit his patients there.

Things may have changed a lot in the village -- but Dr Good has remained a constant factor, and a community leader.

Over 150 friends and relatives gathered at the Wig-a-Mog Inn October 30 to pay tribute to a man known for his hard work, devotion to community interests, and outspokenness.

Speaks his mind

The doctor is not known to pull any punches. If there's one thing he can't stand it's cigarette smoking. Through his untiring efforts smoking has nearly been wiped out at the Rotary Club in Haliburton -- but the doctor would like to see it wiped out everywhere.

"I had a patient who cut down from a pack a day to just two cigarettes -- one before breakfast, one after dinner. But his lung capacity was just as bad with two as it was with a pack."

"Why, he couldn't even walk halfway to the barn," said Dr Good.

He's equally outspoken on OHIP. "Doctors today don't know what it's like to collect money -- to send out bills and the like," he points out.

For Dr Good, the old ways are usually the best ways. To pay visits to people at home -- particularly to those who can't get out -- is an important part of the job to him.

He's still making house calls after nearly 30 years in the village

There have been a few funny house calls, however.

"I once got an urgent call from the Maple Lake area," he said, smiling at the memory. "They said they were half a mile in from the road -- but would meet me with a sleigh."

"We drove in on the sleigh... once we got near the house, we had to walk the last way. Every third step I sunk right through the deep snow," he said.

Once he'd finally made it to the house, Dr Good asked to see the patient.

"I found out that he was out in the barn, doing his chores," laughed the doctor. The case had not been very "urgent" at all, he added. "I've never been back to that house again," he said.

Patients the same

Although Haliburton's changed a lot, Dr Good has many of the same patients. "I have quite a few from Wilberforce, and an amazing number who come up from Minden," he says. He still delivers babies both here and in Minden -- but can see the day when nearly every local baby will be born in Peterborough hospitals.

He's seen a lot of families grow up before his eyes.

The doctor attended high school in the Sydenham area and studied to be a funeral director for a while before joining the air force in the second world war. When he got out of the service he went "to Carleton College (now Carleton University) in Ottawa to take a few refresher courses." In those days Carleton was a tiny campus spread out in various buildings all over the city of Ottawa, recalls Dr Good.

In the fall of 1946 Dr Good went to the University of Toronto for Medicine. Upon his graduation in 1952 he worked for a year in Bobcaygeon before coming up to Haliburton.

"Having doctors, dentists and optometrists is a big bonus for a community -- it attracts a lot of people," he said.

The doctor says his "first controversy" was over the building of a liquor store in the village. Up until the fifties Haliburtonians had to travel to Minden to buy liquor.

"The ones that got me were the people who weren't in favor of having a liquor store here -- but still drank," said the doctor with a smile.

The doctor is no stranger to the fine hunting available in the Highlands. He goes out every year to a camp on Buck Lake, but has also hunted in Newfoundland and James Bay.

His best day hunting occurred when "I had two deer come along -- got both of them, and then had two more come past, and finally another." The doctor got four of five deer in an hour.

Besides being an avid hunter he is a member of the local Rotary Club (he's had perfect attendance since he joined). Through Rotary International he's been to Japan and the Philippines. He's also a member of the Shriners and the local Legion. "There's not much I don't belong to," he said. Others point out that the doctor has given freely to practically every needy cause that has come up in the village.

With the good there's been the bad. As coroner since 1955 the doctor has had some grisly assignments. He recalls three young people being killed when a culvert collapsed at Hawk Lake, and a school bus/car collision that left three dead.

And he regrets having to see so many of the area's young people leave Haliburton -- although he says that's changing now. "There used to be a lot bigger turnover," he points out. "Now people are staying but years ago there was absolutely nothing for young people to do."

The cottage industry and growth of tourism has created a lot of work for the young, he said.

Tribute

The 150 guests had a lot of good to say (excuse the pun) about the man they call "Doc."

Wren Blair, one of the owners of the PineStone Inn, recalls that Dr Good "was available any hour of the night or day" to administer medical attention to boys injured at the hockey camp.

"He never turned us down...he came over happily, even at 4:00 am," said Blair.

Blair said that Dr Good has got involved "in almost everything that's come through this town," giving both his time and his money to community projects.

Blair called Dr Good "a true citizen of the community," explaining that he had "put a lot back" into Haliburton.

MP Bill Scott was the man who first suggested to Dr Good that he move to Haliburton.

"I knew him before he moved (to the village)," said Scott. "I wasn't in politics at the time...but I met him and suggested he practice in Haliburton."

Dr Good was practicing in Bobcaygeon at the time, and Scott took him to the village to meet such people as Ron Curry, Dr Carroll, and Roy and Bob Brohm.

He praised the doctor's hard work habits -- noting that he still gets down to Kinmount to make regular housecalls each Friday. "He's maintained a lot of patients over the years," said the Victoria-Haliburton MP.

"I think, overall, that Dr Good has been good for Haliburton and that Haliburton has been good to Dr Good," concluded Scott.

Well-travelled

As mentioned, the doctor has been all over the globe. Many times his travelling companions have been long-time friends, Harold Herlihey, Chester Schwandt, and Ron Curry.

Herlihey has known Dr Good "ever since he came" to the area, and has accompanied him on moose hunts "up north, in Quebec and in Newfoundland" and trips "to Europe -- we crossed it twice."

He added his praise to that of others, stating that the Doctor was a fine man and a benefit to the

Dr Good has had perfect attendance since he joined the Haliburton Rotary Club in the fifties. In 1961 a large party from the Haliburton club travelled to Tokyo to take part in the 52nd annual Rotary International

Friends on hand at the Wig-a-Mog Inn October 30 included Harold Herlihey, Bea Herlihey, and Kay Schwandt.

Mel Good and Dr Brian Good, doctor Good's brother and son, were seated in places of honor.

Dr George Lewis and his wife Bunny attended. Dr Lewis proved to be a jovial master of ceremonies.

community.

He also told of the time that "my wife, Doc and I" travelled across Morocco in "a crummy old Renault."

The trio wanted to make a circuit between the cities of Casablanca, Fez, and Marakesh. After leaving from Casablanca they encountered an armed party of Arabs, who had set up a road block on the highway to Fez.

"I had my high school French, and so did Doc -- but they were talking in a mixture of Arabic and French," recalled Herlihey.

However, the Arabs -- with the help of their machine guns -- made it clear that the road was blocked off to traffic.

The intrepid travellers roared down a side road "and found ourselves eventually atop the Atlas mountains." After searching for nearly 45 minutes they were able to find their way down the other side and back onto a highway.

Exhausted, tired, and hungry, they stopped for the night -- but Dr Good was immediately asked to help a busload of English-speaking tourists suffering from "dysentery and other diseases" they'd picked up from the local food.

Needless to say, the three kept well away from the food. "We looked in a couple of eating places -- I wouldn't call them restaurants -- and decided to keep going," laughed Herlihey.

In fact, when they finally did get something to eat it was through Dr Good's cunning.

"He spotted a truck carrying a load of grapefruit. It was driving down a bumpy road -- and so a lot of the grapefruit was thrown out." The old Renault began to follow the truck -- and Herlihey said that the fruit that landed on the grass, and was not smashed by the impact, provided the three with their first lunch in days.

"Our family is all for (Dr Good and his wife)...they're fine people," said Herlihey.

Chester Schwandt recalls an occasion where he, Dr Good, and fellow travellers faced a six-hour stopover in Spain -- with nothing to do but sit in an airport.

At the drop of a hat Dr Good organized a bus trip of the city, which most of the Canadians remembered as "the best part of the whole trip."

"I don't know where he gets all the energy," laughed Schwandt. "He won't let you sit down."

Doctor Good "is concerned about the community...if things aren't going right at the Legion or at Rotary, he'll get up there and say something. He speaks his piece -- and says what he thinks," said Schwandt.

He takes his community interest with him when he travels. "When we were down in Florida last he was worrying about his patients back home," said Schwandt.

As for his notoriously effective anti-smoking tactics, Schwandt says that he "doesn't mind people smoking a pipe," and adds that Doc sometimes turns a blind eye at parties -- when Chester slips Dr Good's wife, Ruth, a couple of cigarettes.

Ron Curry also pointed to Dr Good's hard work. "He'll never refuse a house call," he said. "He'll be there if he's needed -- no matter what it is, or where it is...he's really one of the old school type of doctors."

Curry accompanied Dr Good to Japan through Rotary International back in the early seventies, and notes the doctor's fondness for travel and hunting.

"He's done an excellent job here...seven days a week of work, that's the way he likes it," said Curry.

He's also had perfect attendance since joining the Rotary Club, added Curry.

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey said he had "the utmost respect for the way he works in the community and the way he has served the people."

"He's one of the last of the old family doctors," said the reeve.

Help Coboconk

The true test of the new NEED program in this area will be measured by what the government does about the 20 former Vic-Ply workers now living in the Coboconk area.

The plant is closed -- and will not be opening again. Originally about 53 people were thrown out of work, but now only 20 are still jobless.

When their unemployment insurance benefits ran out, the former Vic-Ply staff members began receiving welfare benefits from Victoria County. When their eligibility for the benefits ran out, the county voted to let them re-apply.

But as MPP John Eakins and others point out, short-term solutions are of no real help. The county government, hard-pressed as it is financially, cannot afford to sustain 20 residents indefinitely.

What's needed is direct provincial and federal aid. Surely jobs can be created that would enable the unemployed workers to stay in their area. Jobs in forestry are possible -- as are summer tourism jobs.

Through the work of the Haliburton County Forest Owners' Association efforts have been made towards creating jobs in forestry management. The HCFOA want to take advantage of an existing program -- and job creation money is certain to be spent throughout the NEED program.

While there won't be a new Vic-Ply plant overnight the laid-off workers should be given a chance to find work in the area. If 33 of them already have, it's likely the other 20 will as well...given time.

A NEED program for the winter would take the pressure off the county and help the workers and their families through the long winter ahead.

Let's hope Queen's Park and Ottawa take the time to deal with the plight of the workers in Coboconk.

School saved

The Tory Hill/Monmouth recreation board has decided to re-vamp the old Tory Hill school -- and that's good news for the historic hamlet.

Over the years more and more businesses and buildings have been slipping away from Tory Hill -- and the possibility of losing the use of the old school added insult to injury.

Certainly Tory Hill residents don't have very far to go to use community centres -- the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre in Wilberforce is a short drive away, and Gooderham's centre is also close by.

But what they wanted (and called for unanimously) last Wednesday was simply the maintenance of the status quo. They wanted somewhere to go right in the hamlet; somewhere to hold their card parties, birthday and wedding festivities, and so on.

It may take a while to renovate the old building. It needs a lot of work, especially in the area of insulation. But by showing their willingness to do the job, the recreation board and council of Monmouth have indicated that they do care about Tory Hill -- and that they put the concerns of residents there on a par with concerns of other township ratepayers.

New council

It didn't take the new Dysart council very long to get right into the thick of things.

After a brief swearing-in ceremony the council of seven began dealing with municipal correspondence and the like. By the end of the meeting, new committees had been formed, and members appointed.

They voted on account payments, listened to a development proposal, talked about the bad turn on highway 519, discussed upcoming salary negotiations with municipal CUPE staff members, and much more.

A lot of the discussion was new to the councillors. But there weren't too many mistakes. One councillor suggested "finding someone in Wilberforce" to be our municipal representative on a county committee. Another volunteered for a committee post only to find that councillors could not legally hold that position.

But errors are certainly forgivable, because the council members have an awful lot to learn. They've got to understand the Dysart official plan and zoning -- the key to development of the mini-county.

A warm winter's night.

Letters to the Editor

But is it racism?

Dear Editor:

The Ontario Human Rights Commission is currently considering action against the Leonard Foundation for maintaining a private scholarship fund restricted to Canadian university students who are "of the white race, of British nationality and of the Christian religion in its Protestant form."

Surely it is a basic right of a citizen, living or dead, to dispose of his property in any way that he sees fit. It is completely inappropriate for government, or government agencies, to interfere with the expressed wishes of an individual in what is essentially his last will and testament.

What makes this particular action by the Human Rights Commission even more reprehensible is the narrowness of its focus. The Leonard Foundation is in good company when it comes to racial, religious and nationality requirements for its awards. The Simon and Rosalie Halpern Memorial Scholarship specifies that recipients must be of the "Catholic or Jewish religion". The Murray Brooks Memorial Bursaries are designated for students from "India, Pakistan and Ceylon". The McGill Hellenic Club Bursaries go to students of "Greek descent".

The directory entitled Undergraduate Awards in Canadian Universities and Colleges published by the National Student Information Centre lists hundreds of grants based upon requirements of race, religion, nationality and sex.

Yours sincerely,

Harry F. Barrett,

Searching for grandfather

Dear Editor:

If you could spare me some of your time, I would like to ask a favour. What prompts this letter to you is the mention of your records in the book In Quest of Yesterday by Nila Reynolds, she states that you have back issues from 1884 to 1967.

I need to prove that my grandfather, Walter Fairfield is the son of James Albert Fairfield. It looks easy on the outside, but all I can muster is a death certificate that names nobody because he died in Balfour Township, Algoma County in February of 1898. This is from the Ontario Registrar.

He is buried at Chemelsford but there is no stone; he is on the Fairfield stone in Minden Cemetery, but he is not buried there. I would like to ask you if it is possible to confirm the link for me from your records by the way of an obituary for James Albert Fairfield, February 1898.

I should note here that the stone at Minden does not agree with the Registrar date of death of February 1898, the stone says 1897.

I hope you can help me to solve this mystery to an end that is satisfactory through the use of your records. I am at present adding to a family history that was started by my mother's cousin the late Marjory Alice Fairfield McCaw and my mother's aunt, Jane Harris Fairfield. Again thank you for reading my letter and I shall await at your convenience a reply.

Yours truly,

Paul Douglas Berry,

695 Stannor Drive,

Peterborough, Ontario

P.S. his wife was Mary Steele.

Editor's note: Tragically, all the back issues of the Echo were destroyed by fire. If any of our readers can help in Paul Berry's search for information his address is included above.

Fenelon Falls a nice spot

I had my very first chance since arriving in this area to visit Lindsay on Saturday -- and came away impressed with Fenelon Falls.

Now I'm not knocking Lindsay -- after all, it's a very picturesque place. But the vaulted main street, with its angle parking, proved somewhat less impressive than I'd hoped.

I was looking for records and parts to repair my record player. After the wearing down of much shoe leather I came up empty-handed.

Since I'm a camera buff I'd also hoped to check out the prices of lenses in Lindsay. I had no luck in that regard, either.

So my friends and I, after looking around for a few hours, headed back to the Highlands via Fenelon Falls.

Now Fenelon Falls is not a very big place. I would imagine it is not much larger than Minden or Haliburton.

Be that as it may everything I was looking for was right on hand in Fenelon Falls. At the camera/video store the proprietor not only had the parts I needed to fix my record player (very small washers), he actually gave them to me for free.

He had a full line of lenses that fit my camera, and I was able to get the prices I'd wanted.

Then, right across the street, was a bookstore/record store -- so the second half of the reason for that trip was also fulfilled.

Throw in the falls themselves and a sunny day and you've got a nice town. I was very impressed with the friendly people -- they were almost as friendly as those of Haliburton County.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

Plans are underway for this year's Haliburton Winter Carnival and chairman Jim Scheffee has been working very hard in an effort to whip this big event into shape. From all reports his efforts are paying off and everything up to this time seems to be running on schedule. Jim tells me that many of last year's events and activities will be back on the menu and that they are adding some new features that should thrill both young and old alike. This annual winter extravaganza not only takes money and a lot of hard work, but a great deal of enthusiasm not only from the organization that is sponsoring the winter event, but from all those who are participating or just looking on. If you happen to be one of those people who are sitting home with some good ideas for the winter carnival, please get in touch with Jim Scheffee and I am sure he will bring them up in front of the committee for consideration.

We have mentioned on several occasions that if we hope to have an all year round economy here in the Highlands of Haliburton, that a good start toward this goal would be to promote winter business. A good start seems to have been made in this direction, but from what we can understand many people who are coming back, find that on certain weekends, the Highlands are really lacking in accommodation. Someone remarked just the other day that we need double the winter accommodation that we have now.

Joe and Paul Bennett of Cobourg, Ontario will be the guest speakers when the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship in Canada (Haliburton Hyland Chapter) hold their monthly Fellowship Dinner at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall on Friday evening, December 17, at 7:00 p.m. Joe Bennett is a businessman in Cobourg; he was raised in a Christian home, but he never knew the Lord. Many telephone calls from a persistent seven-year old girl compelled him and his wife, Virginia to ask Jesus into their hearts. Then Joe and his wife started ministering to Paul. Three and a half years later, and after some phenomenal healing miracles, Paul and his wife, Helen, committed their lives to Jesus. Paul Bennett is vice-president of the FGBMF Chapter in Cobourg. Invite your family and friends to hear Joe and Paul Bennett as they share their testimonies.

We have just received word that the Haliburton Senior Citizens' Club are having their Christmas dinner with dancing and entertainment on Thursday, December 16 at the Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton. Dinner will be served at 6:00 p.m. Tickets are $6.00 a plate. If you are interested in attending please get in touch with Mrs Evelyn Henderson who is in charge of selling the tickets. You can phone her after 5:00 pm at 457-1174.

Don't forget the "Warm and Woolly Tree" at the Bank of Montreal in Haliburton. Donations of mittens, scarves, toques, slippers and socks will be accepted until December 22, at which time the Salvation Army will distribute them to needy families in the area.

Milt Dunnell in a recent column in the sports pages of the Toronto Star said that the injury which has sidelined spectacular rookie Bernie Nicholls of the Los Angeles Kings is described as a tear of the medial collateral ligament in the right knee. He is likely to be out of action for a month. Nicholls, who hails from West Guilford, Ontario had 16 goals to his credit when he was injured.

There are certain signs appearing on the horizon that tells us that possibly the recession was have been plagued with for the last year or two here in Haliburton may gradually be coming to an end. Many of the merchants I have been talking with in the village of Haliburton tell me that business this November is away up over a year ago in the same month. These merchants also went on to say that the month of December also seems to be off to a great start. The doom and gloom may be over and the sun may be going to start to shine.

We would like to add our congratulations this week to Don Crowe and Lewis Stevens of Minden. The Minden Kinsmen Club honoured these two members recently with life memberships. The gathering at the Minden Community Centre was honoured to have the founder of Kinsmen Hal Rogers in attendance along with National Kinsmen president, Bing Runquist. Also in attendance was the past national president, Bruce Glass, District Governor, Howard Phee, district Kinette co-ordinator Carol Phee and zone deputy governor Bob Kay.

The Haliburton Huskies are on their way back and on their way up. You can see them in action at the Haliburton Arena this Saturday night when they will be playing at home against Huntsville. The Huskies need your support, so come on out and cheer them on.

Tom Stinson was telling me the other day that something happened last week that renews your faith in human nature. It seems that last Wednesday evening water came through the roof at the Haliburton Curling Club leaving large pebbles on the ice. This meant that curling would have to be cancelled on Thursday the day that the senior club has to curl. They phoned the Minden Curling Club and were invited in with open arms to use all of their facilities. The Haliburton Seniors Curling Club were overjoyed at the hospitality and co-operation shown them by their good friends in Minden. More of this kind of co-operation would sure go along way to bring better feelings between the two communities.

Pic of the Past

The hockey arena shown above in Haliburton was officially opened in 1932 in the Community Recreation Grounds. Steel beams from a dismantled cement plant and most of the lumber and metal roofing came from an old sawmill.

This covered rink at that time was considered to be one of the better arenas in this part of the province. In 1964 the rink was condemned and in the above photo it was shown being torn down. In the same year a new modern arena was constructed in the same location with artificial ice and an auditorium. It is now known as the Dysart Recreation Centre.

Marketing Seminar Planned for January

John Hope-Johnstone, president of Hope-Johnstone Marketing Systems Incorporated was one of the most exciting speakers to be featured at Resorts Ontario's Fall meeting here in Haliburton last fall and he drew a standing ovation at the conclusion of his presentation. He was subsequently asked to be the keynote speaker for the students starting of Career Week at Haliburton High School and once again made a very significant impression.

The Chamber has now arranged to have John Hope-Johnstone visit us for a full day and run a marketing seminar which should be extremely beneficial to those who are interested in improving their techniques in this area. Hope-Johnstone insists that he can work effectively only with small groups and the registration will therefore be absolutely limited to 15 participants. If, however, there is sufficient interest beyond the limited number allowed we may be able to run a second seminar for those who missed out on the first one.

The seminar is set for January 12 at Maple Sands Resort. The cost is $60 per person and this fee includes all your materials and a lunch at Maple Sands. You may register by calling the Chamber at 286-1760 and mailing in your registration fee.

Can you afford to spend $60 on a Marketing Seminar when times are tough? We would suggest that you can't afford not to. When times get tough, the competition gets tough, and you are going to need all the skills you can acquire to come out on top. That's what this seminar is designed to do for you.

The Chamber is setting up two photo contests in order to acquire some winter photographs suitable for use in Winter promotional programs. The first contest will be for existing pictures that you may have so that they can be used this year. The deadline on submissions for that contest, therefore, is December 31.

A second contest is being run to encourage photographers to take pictures this year that we can use in future. The deadline for submissions of those photos extends to March 31, 1983.

Pictures must be black and white, and must include people enjoying a winter activity in the Highlands. Pictures of winter scenery therefore must have at least one person in the view, preferably involved in something such as skiing or snowmobiling. Winners will be asked to also supply negatives and the winning photographs will become the property of the Chamber. In addition to supplying the winner with a prize the Chamber will provide a photo-credit wherever the winning pictures are used.

Pictures will be judged purely on their suitability for promotion of Winter business in the Highlands. The prize lists are not yet complete but will include merchandise vouchers and dinners for two at some of our leading establishments. We hope to have the list put together by next week, but in the meantime start looking through your photo albums -- remember black and white only please.

Coming Events "On Air"

For the past several months Elgin Stouffer has been putting together weather report tapes for the Chamber which are being used by a number of radio stations. If you haven't heard them they are played regularly on CKLY in Lindsay and we do suggest you tune in. If you would like to hear them on other stations phone the station and ask them why they aren't using the service. If other stations are asking you to advertise ask them if they are using the service and if not -- why not.

To this service Elgin is now adding a coming events tape. Events that are called in to the Chamber office can be included. If you haven't been in the habit of letting us know what your organization is doing please do so now. This is just one more way we now have to help publicize your events.

New Director from Cardiff

We are pleased to announce that Joe Paul, owner of the Cardiff Food Fair at Cardiff townsite has been appointed as an ex-officio director of the Chamber of Commerce. The motion to invite Paul to fill the position was made at the November 30 Board of Directors meeting and the invitation was formally accepted this week. The board was anxious to improve representation from that part of our county and was most pleased to welcome Joe Paul into their ranks.

Ministry Counsellors Visit

Representatives of the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation's travel counselling services are in Haliburton County this week and are visiting all accommodation facilities that are members of Resorts Ontario and that are open year round. The ministry is placing a very high priority on year round tourism and is making sure that their staff is fully familiar with the facilities that are now available. A welcome sight.

Foreign Land Ownership

The question of foreign land ownership has once again been raised in the House, by Liberal leader David Peterson and Jack Riddell, MPP for Huron-Middlesex, who have charged that the Ontario Government has been aware for eight years that foreign nationals have been buying Ontario farmland, using loopholes in the current legislation to avoid payment of the 20 per cent land transfer tax.

When the former treasurer John White announced the land transfer tax on foreign land buyers in his 1974 budget he claimed that foreigners would not be able to avoid paying the tax by means of acquiring the land through numbered companies. However, the legislation did not include a clause which would force a foreign buyer of a corporation to pay taxes on the land owned by that firm.

Education Changes

In what has been described as a repudiation of the Davis educational policy and an endorsement of Ontario Liberal policies, the minister of education has indicated that by the end of the decade planned changes will make high school much tougher for pupils. In response to a study which found that "a more rigorous, prescriptive system" is required, the Minister has announced that grade 13 diplomas for students heading for university ought to be abolished and a single diploma with more stringent requirements should replace it throughout the province by September 1989.

The number of compulsory credits for a secondary school diploma will be raised from nine to sixteen, including five English, two math, two science, and a French credit. While the change-over date will vary from school to school, some students entering grade nine in September 1984 will be governed by the new requirements. Grade 12 and 13 diplomas will be replaced by a single 30-credit Ontario Secondary School Diploma, which will be first available in June 1986, and will be the only diploma given by June 1990. Grade 13 will become a university preparation program called Ontario Academic Courses -- a six credit program of advanced level to be taken during the four year diploma program or subsequently in a fifth high school year.

Ontario-wide standardized tests of the advanced academic courses would be conducted by the educational system, for use as university entrance examinations, and the Minister is apparently giving consideration to making it a rule that copies of a pupil's transcript, complete with marks, be sent home at the end of each school year. Under the new government scheme, all schools are to adopt a standardized transcript for the use of higher education institutions and employers.

Report from Parliament

by Bill Scott, MP

I started out intending to write to you about the proposed redistribution of seats in the House of Commons and how and when this will effect Victoria-Haliburton. I shall return to that later in this article.

In the midst of preparing this column, a Parliamentary messenger delivered to my office a presentation from the Davey-Joyal Committee entitled, "Semi-Annual Report on the Progress of Six and Five." This report is in a beautiful deluxe three inch white ring binder. It has emblazoned on the front the six and five logo on a plasticized cover. The detailed, bilingual table of contents lists 25 separate sections which vary in length from one to 18 pages. The quality of the graphics and printing is excellent. No costs were spared to produce this detailed defence of the program, including a bound, 50-page presentation copy of the prime minister's TV broadcasts on October 19, 20 and 21.

After spending some time during the presentation, I began wondering at what cost it was produced. I have no idea how many of these presentations were distributed. The binder itself must have cost several dollars. The tabbed presentation, including booklets, constitute a 500-page printing job. Adding up these costs one quickly realizes that the total bill is outrageous.

The government boasts about the savings caused by the six and five program, contained in the presentation do not jive with the kind of spending illustrated by its production. Surely the purpose of the program is to reduce overall spending and not simply direct it from wages to printing. The savings must be used to increase welfare payments, sponsor worksharing agreements and generally stimulate employment. To spend it on public relations efforts for the Liberal party is totally irresponsible.

I said I would return to the proposals for redistribution and I shall. The proposals, as you may have seen by now, would mean Victoria-Haliburton would lose the Township of Georgina and would gain the Townships of Ennismore, Burleigh, Methuen, Dummer, and Belmont, including the town of Havelock. These new boundaries, if accepted, will be in effect for any general election held after the fall of 1984. I do not expect that, unless under extraordinary circumstances, the next general election will be delayed that long. That being the case, I am sure I will continue to represent the present riding after the next election.

Jaro Cooper of the Haliburton Peewees just missed this opportunity to score Sunday afternoon in the Peewee "B" division championship game. A late rally by the home team fell just short as Bancroft managed to hang on for a 4-3 victory.

Huskies lose to first-place club

The Huskies came so close to a win Sunday they could almost taste it -- but dropped a close decision to a tough Gravenhurst team 7-4. Gravenhurst is the best team in the entire league.

Coupled with a 14-3 loss to Bracebridge Friday night on the road the Huskies' Sunday loss means they are still winless on the year. They've tied two games and have lost the rest.

Bracebridge 14, Haliburton 3
An eight-goal Bracebridge

third period proved to be the undoing of Haliburton Friday night.

Duane Lennie got the nod to start the contest. The home team scored three goals fairly early to take the lead.

Marc Antonia (from Mike Jones) opened the scoring on the powerplay at 5:29. Then Mike Crawford connected at 6:46, from Tim Lefler, and captain Paul Klingbeil scored from Antonia at 7:06.

Kevin Warburton posted the Huskies first goal on a pass from Bret Austen at 7:46 of the first.

Crawford's second goal of the night (from Ron Guy) at 9:04 made it 4-1, but the Huskies got back to within two on a solo effort by Glen Evans.

A Chris Gibbs goal at 18:35 (from Klingbeil and Dan Henshaw) pushed count to 5-2 before the period ended.

The sixth Bracebridge goal was scored by Jones, from Ken Johnson and Guy. Haliburton did not score in the second period.

Penalties proved to be the undoing of the Huskies in the third. A quick goal by Scott Rae (from Butch Manary) got the club within three again at 2:27. Then the fights began.

Roger Hicks was ejected after a fight at 5:50, and Kevin Warburton was in the box on a minor. During that period Antonia, Jones and Brown scored powerplay goals for Bracebridge, running the count to 9-3.

Glen Evans received a three-game match penalty for kicking from referee Don Norris. Kevin Shapiera was also ejected for fighting.

Goal scorers in the third for Bracebridge were:

- Dave Ruttle (from Henshaw)
- Mike Jones (from D Ruttle)
- Lefler (from Antonia and Jones)
- Norm Ruttle (from Ian Brown and Johnson) on the powerplay
- Henshaw (from D Ruttle and Antonia)

Lennie allowed ten goals for Haliburton. Colin Newell finished up the match, allowing four.

Gravenhurst 7, Haliburton 4
Gravenhurst should have humbled the Huskies Sunday.

The Indians are first place overall in the league, and have the top four scorers in Junior "C" hockey. Yet the Huskies, never giving up, kept things close until the third, thanks to standout goaltending by Colin Newell in the early going.

The Indians struck early on in the contest. At 3:11 Phil Carter, an Indian mainstay, picked up the rebound of a Kris King blast and tucked the puck into the open side. Doug Renkema picked up an assist on the play, and it was 1-0.

Newell stopped the Indians time and time again. Their pinpoint passing and hard shooting tested the young Huskies' netminder time and time again -- but he kept the door shut for the rest of the first.

At 14:09 Scott Mitchell took a quick pass from Scott Rae and beat John Bouchard low on the stick side. Rob Abbs got an assist, and the period ended 1-1.

Scott Rae left the game late in the period with a neck injury, but was back to finish the contest.

In the second Steve Duggan of the Indians took a pass as he fell from Clay Walker. Duggan and the puck crossed the red line, putting the Indians up 2-1. Andy Schell got an assist on the play, and Duggan was shaken up.

The Indians went up 3-1 when ace Kris King picked up a centering pass from Carter, drew Newell to his left and flicked a backhand into the top right corner. Irwin Heshka received an assist.

And the score went to 4-1 after Clay Walker won the draw in the Huskies zone.

Peewees win consolation

If the outcome of the tournament held in Haliburton last week-end is any indication the Peewee team from neighboring Bracebridge is heading for an all-Ontario championship. Not only did they win the "A" Grand Championship but they outscored their opponents by a total of 31 to 5.

When the individual awards were presented they were blessed with the best forward, best defenceman and most valuable player oval in the tournament. A selection committee gives out three star awards after each game in the tournament, but after the final game the committee was so impressed that they decided to give a star to every boy on the team who had not already earned one. The team was so well balanced that there seemed to be no other logical choice.

An Ottawa team, which won the "A" consolation, also impressed the judges with their clean play and team discipline. This resulted in them being awarded the Bill Davis Memorial Sportsmanship Award. This trophy is presented each year by the referees and honors an individual who spent most of his days during past winters working in the timers box prior to his untimely death.

the consolation round.

On Saturday the boys ran up against the team from Minden and came up with a big effort and beat the Minden team 7-0 with Gavin McKnight in the Haliburton net getting the shutout.

Scoring for Haliburton was as follows: Colin Hunter from Erin Nicholls, Jeff Francis

This was a very close exciting game with the score being 2-2 with less than three minutes remaining in the contest when Haliburton exploded for three quick goals to win the game. Scoring for Haliburton were the following: Perrin from Warburton, Cooper from Perrin, Nicholls from Hunter and Cooper, Warburton from Hunter and Cooper unassisted.

This win put the team into the grand championship game against the B Championship team from Bancroft.

This was one of the best games of the tournament with the local boys putting up a great fight before losing by a 4-3 score. Scoring for Haliburton were Francis from Nicholls and Greg Scheffee, Scheffee from Nicholls and Hunter, and Jaro Cooper from Nicholls.

Haliburton goaltender Gavin McKnight had a good week-end with only eight goals against in four games and won the best goaltender award in the "B" division.

Lose "B" championship 4-3 to Bancroft club

The Haliburton OMHA Peewees played in the annual Alcide Carpenter memorial tournament this past week-end and came out of it with the consolation "B" championship.

The Haliburton team started out slowly in their first game Friday night and came out on the short end of a 2-0 score against the team from Leaside putting them in from Nicholls, Ron Perrin from Jeff Warburton and Jason Smith, Jaro Cooper from Perrin and Drew Mitchell, Jeff Warburton unassisted, Drew Mitchell from Cooper and Warburton, and Jeff Francis from Nicholls.

This win put the boys in the consolation championship game against Fenelon Falls on Sunday morning.

The HSES senior volleyball team did extremely well at a 18-team tournament here last week. They were runners-up to Minden in the final. The bulk of the 18 teams in the tourney were from Victoria county. In the front row, from left to right, are Darryl Goodall, Barry Miscio, Chris Harrison, Drew Mitchell, Jaro Cooper,

Haliburton II Peewees defeat HeadNuts 6-1

Last Wednesday the two local Peewee teams met for their first regular meeting of the season. Haliburton II opened the scoring at 4:37 of the first period on a goal scored by Ben Packard, assisted by Ray Gervais.

In the second period Haliburton II has goals by Jeff Emmerson, assisted by Jeff Smith and Darren Byers; and Ben Packard assisted by Troy Austen and Darren Byers.

The HeadNuts goal was scored by Allan Rydman assisted by Wallis Wood.

In the third period Haliburton II had goals by Darren Warburton, assisted by Darren Byers and Jeff Emmerson.

son: Jeff Smith, assisted by Charlie Franklin and Ben Packard; and Jeff Emmerson assisted by Scott McKee.

These two teams met again this Friday evening at 6:00 pm.

Wilberforce Bantams top Apsley in week-end play

It was over to Apsley for all games in the Minor Hockey League this past weekend. The Wilberforce Bantams defeated the home team 3-2, while the Peewees finished in a one all tie game. Apsley Novices managed to down their visitors 2-1 in a closely fought match, while Wilberforce Atoms came out decided winners with their 5-0 score which leaves them still undefeated in this year's schedule.

Goalie Marsha Sweet has pulled off an impressive four shutouts in the last five games the Atoms have played! All four divisions will travel to Bancroft for their next games on Saturday, December 11, with the Bantams starting off the day at 8:00 am, Peewees at 9:30, Atoms at 10:30, and Novices at 11:30.

It wasn't so much a case of poor road visibility as "who could see the puck" this past Friday night when Tri-County games had to be postponed due to fog conditions on the ice surface. Things had cleared up enough Saturday and Inter City Tire fell to Chuck's Discount in a 4-2 defeat. Next game will be against Bancroft Pharmacy at 7:30 pm this Friday in Bancroft.

Then it's home again to meet Bird's Creek at 6:00 pm Saturday.

Footnote to Minor Hockey News: Tickets will be available as you read this, for the annual New Year's dance at the Lloyd Watson. Cost is $15.00 per couple, a delicious cold buffet will be served and music will be provided by DJ Jack Odney who promises a variety of tunes.

Scott Rae (number seven) and brother Mike (background) celebrate after Haliburton's fourth goal against Gravenhurst. The Indians are the number one team in the league

Curry's, Emmerson's walk away

Curry Motors and Emmerson Lumber showed why they are ranked first and second respectively in Men's Industrial League hockey action Monday night.

In a pair of games played at the Dysart Community Centre Curry's hammered Bishop and Wilson 11-4 before Emmerson's slaughtered Haliburton Lumber 13-5 in the nightcap.

Bishop and Wilson got on the board first in the early game as Steve Cooper scored from Lee Bull. At 7:26 Jim Burk tallied from Jim Winn, and the period ended tied at one.

Curry's outscored Bishop and Wilson 4-1 in the second. Glen Scully (from Steve Roberts), Jim Burk (from Tom Curry and Kevin Sisson), Tom Curry (unassisted) and Willie Gueber (from Burk and Winn) scored for Curry's.

John Parish (from Curry Bishop) replied for Bishop and Wilson.

Curry Motors added six in the third on goals by Rennie Bonfield (from Brian Black)

- Tom Curry (from Chip Trueman)
- Willie Gueber (from Burk and Winn)
- Gueber (from Burk)
- Tom Curry (unassisted)
- Walt Prime (from Bob Nichols and Tom Curry)

Steve Cooper (from Paul Howe) and Kim Emmerson (from Wayne Ellison).

There was little doubt in the nightcap as Emmerson's roared to a commanding lead.

In the first, Emmerson's scorers were

- Keith Hodgson (unassisted)
- Scott Cook (from Hodgson)
- Cook (unassisted)
- Dean Curry (from Joe Roberts and Sheldon Nicholls)
- Sheldon Nicholls (unassisted)

Glen Vick got the first Haliburton Lumber goal from Gary Burtch early in the second. Then Curry's scored four more:

- Dean Curry (from Nicholls)
- Paul Morrisette (from Gary Walker)

- Gary Brohman (unassisted)
- Walker (from Dean Curry and Joe Roberts)

Brohman scored from Morrisette and Mark Schell and Joe Roberts added a goal from Dean Curry before Haliburton Lumber got their second goal.

Rich Howe took a pass from Steve Barker to get number two. That made the score 11-2.

Brohman completed his hat trick from Morrisette and Schell and Jim McPhail scored from Morrisette to close out Emmerson's scoring.

Bob Woodcock and Gary Burtch scored unassisted goals and then teamed up (Woodcock from Burtch) to get some respectability for Haliburton Lumber.

The suspiciously high number of goals scored in the last two and a half minutes could be related to the week-long hockey pool. In all, four goals were scored in the last two minutes and 19 seconds of play.

Paul Morrisette stuffs home a pass from Gary Walker to beat Haliburton Lumber goaltender John Bitman. Defenceman Steve Barker arrives just seconds late on the play. Emmerson's went on to trounce Haliburton Lumber 13-5, and now move into second place by themselves in Men's Industrial League hockey action.

Anglers and hunters oppose more parks

A proposal to create 245 more Provincial Parks in Ontario has been met with strong opposition from several well represented provincial associations.

The 37,000 member Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters have been joined by the 20,000 member Ontario Trappers Association, the Prospectors and Developers Association with 3,500 individual and corporate members, and the 38 companies of the Ontario Forest Industries Association.

The groups contend the new parks, which would tie up an additional 10.5 million acres of public land, are not necessary for the protection of the resource as it is already Crown land and under government control.

They point to thousands of user days of lost recreation, and a decline in much needed employment in Ontario's rural and remote areas. The associations have joined forces in their effort to encourage the government to establish a two-year moratorium on the establishment of any Provincial or National Parks.

Spokesman feel the general public are not fully aware of the effects the governments proposal would have. They, as well as other associations are supporters for multiple use and protection of Ontario's natural resources.

The organizations have jointly appealed to the Ontario Minister of Natural Resources and the Ontario Cabinet to establish the two-year moratorium.

Huskies lose two and got the puck back to Craig Smith. Smith's low, screened drive beat Newell.

But the Huskies came right back. Butch Manary sent Mike Rae into the clear. Rae's booming shot was kicked out by John Bouchard, but John McKelvey fired the rebound home to make the score 4-2.

Just over two minutes later, at 17:57, Scott Rae found the mark on the powerplay. Mike Rae and Butch Manary got assists and the Huskies trailed by one.

The Indians scored again at 18:18 to maintain their two-goal cushion. Shawn Wilson was sent into the clear by Dan Townes. Wheeling down the right side he beat two Huskies defenders and goaltender Newell with a high backhand.

In the third Scott Rae got his second. After taking a pass from brother Mike he stuffed a backhand past Bouchard, and it was 5-4. Rob Abbs got an assist on the goal, which came at 9:56.

But two late goals by King and Walker finished the Huskies.

Bud Thayer said Friday that he had never been out in his canoe on Head Lake this late in the year before. On December 3 he made his usual crossing of the lake. Mr Thayer said that he didn't know whether this was his earliest crossing or his latest -- since the ice came and went on the lake.

HCHSS can provide low-cost help

DID YOU KNOW?
by Leopoldina Dobrzynsky

Haliburton County Home Support Services can assist seniors to stay in their own homes for a longer period of time by providing them with some low cost home help.

Sometimes it's just a matter of two or three hours of housework a week, or some young man to replace light bulbs, repair a door, put on storm windows or bring in firewood. This help can be given for as little as $2.50 per hour and can be had whether you live on a lonely county road or in a town or village.

Requests for the service should be directed to Marie Wallace, co-ordinator, Haliburton County Home Support Services (457-2941).

Eleanor Walker's great-grandson, and Lola Prentice's great-grandson, along with other babies were christened in Minden United Church. I imagine all the relatives were really quite excited. I love babies, especially baby daughters. I like to hold them on my knee from the time they are a few days old, until about twenty-three.

I am afraid we are going to be feeling rather blue. They tell us Santa Claus is down with North Pole flu.

If he doesn't get better soon, whatever will we do.

Rev Burgess took the service last Sunday in November, and while the Thompson's are away, a little bird told Mrs. Taylor we needed someone to play.

It is so nice to have music for the singing. We thank you again Agnes for coming. Much pleasure she is bringing.

My sister Blanche Windsor has written a book, about their life with the Indians in the Peace River country. If a copy you request, they are on sale at Hyland Crest.

Watched three movies Monday night -- "Sheep in the Woods," "The Art of Cooking," and "A heron named Bill," who ate all kinds of "goo" until he was filled.

Sorry to report Mrs. Avery is in hospital. We hope not for long.

Haliburton Lieutenant Sydney Buell of the Salvation

Army held the service in the chapel, this last November day. Our girls came, Barbara to sing, Agnes to play. We thank them all for coming. What more can we say?

Someone who is nice to have back again is Rachel Fearrey. She waits on us with a cute little smile, and is not a bit contrary.

Mrs. Lewis was away for the week-end, to tell us where she went, she wouldn't condescend.

The doctor says Millie Wood has fluid on her chest. She has to behave herself, and take a real good rest.

The ladies of the Eastern Star served a lovely lunch this Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Currie played some real lively tunes like "Springtime in the Rockies," which gave us a thrill, and "Birds in the tree-tops on Mocking Bird Hill."

A big thank you ladies, is what we want to say. Hope you will come back to us some day.

Ted Carr is making another flower cart, and is feeling rather blue. He just got the thing half built, when someone swiped his glue.

Down in fun and fitness Edith Welch, bless her heart, beat us all in throwing of the dart.

We are sorry to report that our administrator, Mr Brown fell and his ankle he did sprain, but hopes to be back with us on Monday once again.

We were sorry to miss "Sing-song" time this Friday afternoon, but our grandson, wife and little great granddaughter, who live at Onaping, on the other side of Sudbury, came to visit us, so we couldn't do a thing.

Think of me, as your friend, I pray.
And call me by a loving name,
I will not care, what others say,
If only you remain the same,
I will not care how dark the night,
I will not care how wild the storm,
Your love will fill my heart with light,
And shield me close, and keep me warm.

Good turnout for HCFA meeting

by ERNEST HILLS
Haliburton County
Federation of Agriculture

The November general meeting of the Haliburton County Farmers Association was one of the best attended of the past year. Once again hosted by the president, Ray Welch, association members met in the Welch barn to witness a demonstration of the use of implants and the application of spot-on upon some of Ray's calves. Later we were graciously welcomed into the Welch household for coffee and further discussion.

Roger Osborne was on hand to demonstrate the techniques for implanting calves, as well as to discuss relevant data concerning the use of the implants. Mr Osborne is the Ontario representative for Brae Laboratories, who manufacture implants. The implant itself is a chemical compound which acts as a stimulant upon the calf's pituitary gland. Ralgrow factsheets claim that one implant in combination with good stock management can mean an average increase of twenty pounds of beef per head.

Purists of the 'organic' persuasion may find objection, but many of the cattlemen in attendance could not fault the economics involved.

Also on hand for the meeting was Rick Beuckert from Cutter Animal Health Clinic, Guelph, who demonstrated the proper (and exacting) application of spot-on. Spot-on is a systemic used to rid cattle of warble grubs, lice and other blood-sucking parasites that affect the health and productivity of your livestock.

Of particular note was what I think of as the 'dandelion syndrome', whereby the effectiveness of a control program can only be measured by the number of people participating. If you spend time and money attempting to control the weeds on your front lawn, while your neighbour does not, you are fighting a losing battle. Similarly with warble flies, their control and elimination depends upon everyone with stock cooperating in the program.

This meeting will be followed-up by Ray Welch with a report to the association on how his yearling calves fared as part of a comparison between those receiving the implant and those of comparable size and age which did not. The contest involving the estimating of a particular calf's weight was jointly won by association members Tim Casey and Wayne Cox, who accurately guessed the beast's weight. The prize was an implant gun, donated by Ralgrow. A suggestion from the floor in determining an ultimate winner included a duel at three paces with implant guns. Ouch!

In conjunction with my last column, and the 'land use strategy' as proposed by the Ministry of Natural Resources, before we, as the agricultural community, permit the reforestation of vacant farmland, or bow to proposed tax incentives for reforestation, let's take another look!

A world food shortage looms before us, and pine tree soup is not likely to be a

Snowdon Supporters meeting held

About 40 people of all ages enjoyed a pot luck supper organized by the Snowdon Supporters in the Lochlin Community Hall on November 19.

After the supper a meeting was held to discuss the activities of the group and to prepare for the winter season.

The following ideas were expressed:

- Appreciation for the work done to date and the recognition of the long-term value to the whole community of the Snowdon park and wetlands area.

- The need to maintain close co-operation with the municipal council so that available grants and support for local workers on the project can be maintained.
- The need to make more people of the area aware of the parkland, and to encourage them to use the fine ski trails in the winter and the walks in the summer.

The possibility of community meetings with appropriate films for family viewing and other activities which will help to enhance the community life.

A decision was made to hold a children's Christmas party, and a follow up meeting was held on November 22, to make the plans. As a result we can now make the following announcement.

A children's Christmas party will be held in the Community Hall at Gelert on Sunday, December 12, from 4:00 pm to 6:00 pm. It is designed especially for children up to ten years of age but we hope you will come as a family if possible.

This is a chance to play and sing, to see some short films, to share refreshments and goodies, and of course, to meet Santa who will appear in person.

We shall try to invite you and explain your part in this event, but for more information please call Jeanette Hartwick (286-2561), Rhonda Francis (286-2372), or Carolyn Smith (286-1879).

New Dysart council is sworn in "The reason you have taken office is not to get rich," Rev Smith said. The role of the council is to deal honestly and fairly with the community that has elected it, he said.

Welcomes new

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey greeted the new council with a reminder that although the municipality is now sectioned into five wards "the overriding issue is to do the right thing for the whole municipality."

"I like to think we have a council that is united," he said. Some people "have a habit of trying to divide a council" on decisions.

While the reeve expects disagreement on some upcoming decisions, he said he hoped that "when the majority of the council makes a decision...that decision should be the final one. We have to stick together...otherwise it will keep coming back to us."

He said the new members may find things "a little bit difficult" for the first two or three meetings, because of the municipal process. He advised all of them to meet with Derrell Stamp to "go over our official plan and planning matters."

Two Lindsay residents receive stiff fish and game act hunting fines

by J. MILFORD
Conservation Officer
Co-ordinator and Fur Manager

On November 12, 1982, two Lindsay residents were convicted in provincial court on ten charges under the Migratory Birds Convention Act and the Game and Fish

Act. The court assessed fines totalling $1,850.

The charges resulted from an investigation on September 25 by Lindsay District conservation officers during which the two accused were apprehended with fifty-two ducks (40 over their daily limit) in possession. Further investigation resulted in charges being laid for possession of fur-bearing animals during the closed season, hunting without a licence, failing to retrieve injured waterfowl and hunting waterfowl in a "baited" area.

In addition to the $1,850 in fines, the Court ordered the permanent seizure of shotguns, a canoe, decoys and other hunting equipment.

Last Visit Before Christmas

Wilberforce News

On November 30 the Moumouth Senior Citizens travelled by bus on a visit to Cullen Gardens. They had a delightful time examining the miniature village set out in the grounds.

This featured houses and public buildings on streets and avenues, everything in perfect replica complete with small figures engaged in various types of leisure and occupation. The landscape is changed with the seasons so at this time a Santa Claus parade was in progress with every detail observed.

Later the group visited the Oshawa Shopping Centre then on to Peterborough with a stop at the Miss Diana restaurant where they enjoyed their Christmas turkey dinner. A well planned outing from which they returned about 8:30 pm tired but happy.

Grace Patterson passed away on November 30 at her home in Ottawa. She was sister to Albert, Frank, Art and Katie, Mrs Dowdell, Saunders. Grace Saunders was born in Essonville.

After her marriage to Russell Patterson they purchased the old Sid White farm and lived there for some years. She was buried in the South Wilberforce cemetery. She is survived by two sons, Harvey and Keith.

Ross and Vicci Agnew have just returned from a holiday in Hawaii. They arrived there just before the big typhoon struck the islands and this added plenty of excitement to their trip. Although not on the two larger islands that bore the brunt of the storm, they witnessed enough commotion to make this holiday a memorable one.

These typhoons create mountainous waves and terrific winds. It is said that at one time the great ocean liner, the Empress of Japan, caught in just such a storm, was picked up like a matchstick and deposited on the docks at Hong Kong. One cherished memory of the Agnews was the magnificent view of Diamond Head seen from the window of their hotel on the 20th floor.

A meeting of the Haliburton County Home Support Services drew volunteers from all parts of the County. It is very encouraging to see so many people interested in helping others. The organization is working toward the benefit of senior citizens and they are doing a splendid job. Services being made available throughout the County are Meals on Wheels, and Wheels to Meals, Foot Care and Health Clinics, swimming classes and help with many problems that occur in the home. For help with any of these situations call Jim Ross at 448-2645 or Mrs V Agnew at 448-2993.

To brighten your life plan to attend a play being held at the high school auditorium on December 9, 10 and 11. This is a comedy presented by the Highlands Little Theatre group. It is called "The Savage Dilemma" and begins at 8:00 pm.

The ACW of St Margaret's Church in Wilberforce held their annual Christmas meeting on December 1. Prayers and the singing of carols was followed by a discussion of events that took place during the year. It was evident that there was much to be thankful for and for this the members gave thanks.

The Tory Hill recreation committee held a meeting at Tory Hill in the old school building to discuss with residents the disposal or renovation of the building. Reeve Keith Tallman and the council members were present as were many interested persons. The building has been in use as a community centre, but is in need of many changes to make it suitable for future occupation. After discussion of plans for renovation a showing of hand resulted in the general opinion that the building be kept and the necessary changes made. Work on the project is to begin shortly.

For some time now the people of Harcourt have been planning a concert for children and adults that is to be held in the community centre there on December 17 at 7:00 pm. Everyone is welcome to attend. It looks like an interesting evening.

The Monmouth Volunteer Firemen Christmas party takes place Saturday, December 11. Be at the fire hall when Santa arrives at 1:00 pm. There will be treats for the children and free skating at the arena.

The Library will hold an evening of films and the making of Christmas gifts on two Friday evenings, December 10 and December 17. Action starts at 7:00 pm. Bessie Crofts and Donna Herbert will be providing the entertainment.

Everyone came early to the Wild Life dinner prepared and served by the superb cooks of the Wilberforce Legion, Branch 624. The line-up stretched from the door of the Memorial Centre, past the lounge to continue in a double line in the hall, where it inched slowly to the counters where at last patience was rewarded by a fine selection of delicacies such as venison, roast duck, bear meat, and beaver -- all cooked to perfection. After many hours of work the ladies of the auxiliary were still able to serve with a smile. In their midst was our old friend Sterling Mather wearing his chef's hat and apron. The finishing touch was added by the genial Legion secretary, Ron Buxton, who decorated the flaky pastry with a dash of whipped cream. Congratulations to the men and women of the Legion for another successful dinner party.

For any women with an urge to pound the puck about while getting some good exercise, meet at the Monmouth Arena in time to go on the ice at 12:00 Sunday. It's an informal get-together, whether you've played a great deal or need a stick to lean on to stay standing, anyone's welcome. Helmets, knee and elbow pads are recommended as minimum equipment. (Some of us simply fall down a lot.)

Gooderham News

by Mary Hadley

Friends of Audrey Prentice were glad to see her when she, her daughter, Barbara, Barry, and two children spent last weekend at her home.

She had just recovered from a bout of pneumonia. Murray Madill has just returned to his home following surgery in St. Michael's hospital, Toronto.

We extend sincere wishes for a speedy convalescence and hope he may soon be restored to good health.

On December 11 at 2:00 pm Santa Claus will come to town. He will be present at the community centre for the annual children's party. Here, every child 12 years and under will have fun with hay rides and films and will receive popcorn and candy. All are welcome.

At the same time the Glamorgan senior citizens' will hold a bazaar and sale of knitted goods, Christmas decorations and novelties in the community centre, you may find just the gift you want to give someone for Christmas.

Leona and John Mackie of St. Catharines are spending their holiday season with Leona's mother, Mae Pickens, and other family members.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

I hear from her at Christmas. And oh I am so glad. To once again renew the warmth of friendship that we had. Although she lives so far away we are still friends on Christmas Day.

She writes about her children, and the way they're getting on, what they are doing, how they fare, with-out their happy presence there. She says that Dad is slowing up, his hair is white as snow, and sometimes I feel weary like, (we all get old you know).

But Christmas with its happy cheer, brings the old friends forever near. And though she lives so far away, we are old friends on Christmas Day.

This coming Friday, December 10, movies will be shown in the common room. The adult movies will be in the afternoon, and the children's movies in the evening. Both will be at the usual time.

All friends and relatives are invited to help Ethel Harrison, Buckslide Road, RR 2 Minden, celebrate her 80th birthday on Sunday, December 12. Open house will be held afternoon and evening, best wishes only.

If the weather permits Ethel, I will be there, but I wish to say happy birthday now to the best sister-in-law I ever had, God bless and may you have many more.

Minden Figure Skating Club are holding their meeting at the Municipal Building at 8:00 pm December 14.

The Martha Group of Minden United Church Women held their Christmas meeting at the Church Hall on Wednesday, December 1, after a Christmas devotional, the officers were elected for 1983. Leader will be Mrs Jim Grant, secretary -- Mrs Lyman Cox, and treasurer Mrs Maud Coulter. The program was composed of Christmas poems by some members, and Christmas carols. At the close a delicious lunch was served.

Two groups from Grade 8 worked on their Pioneer projects at the Library last week, and enjoyed Esther Lee showing them how to spin and weave.

Mr and Mrs Leaman and Karen of Keswick visited with Milt and Jeanne Sears on the week-end.

Can you believe the lovely weather we have been having lately? It seems we have broken some records, you folks in Florida should be here now.

Sunday evening the United Church held their pot luck supper and white gift service. It was so nice to hear the chimes again, they are one thing that were silent for too long.

With all the rain this past week-end they tell me that the river has risen high enough to cross the road in some places on North Water street. Surely no flood now, are we having an early spring?

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

Happy birthday wishes go out this week to Glenda Martin, Ida Pardy, Glenda Swanton, all on December 3. To Bill Moss Jr., December 7 and to John Barkwell on December 19.

The Galway Wednesday night eulogy results: men's high, Leon Wright, men's low, Bob Allen; ladies' high, Joyce Wright; ladies' low, Alma Harper; and lone hands, Flo Drinkle.

Doris, Garland and Jane Barkwell and Madeline Hartin spent a day last week visiting and shopping in Orillia.

John and Michelle Barkwell and daughters visited Michelle's parents in Ajax recently.

Just over a month ago, on November 1, at Ross Memorial Hospital, little Adam Larry Silver was born to Helen and Larry Silver. Happy grandparents in Kinmount are Audrey and Norman Silver.

A bake sale will be held in the vicinity of Scott's IGA store in Kinmount, Saturday, December 11 from 10:00 am until all the goodies are sold. All monies received will go to the arena fund so that the arena may stay open this winter for our young people to have a place they may go and enjoy.

Georgina Swinson of E. Wilson (488-2657) and Marg Viney who lives on highway 503 in the former Bluet home, (488-2876) will be pleased to accept any cash or bake donations you wish to make in order to help this cause.

Don't forget the Galway Christmas party for the children, to be held in the Galway Firehall, December 18 beginning at 1:00 pm. All welcome.

We had a bit of a get-together at our house last Wednesday afternoon at which some 20 ladies and a tiny baby girl attended. They came from Minden, Norland, Coboconk, Manilla, Kinmount and England. It was a nice change for a day.

Had a chat with Reg McCluney last Friday while downtown and he is looking exceptionally well following his back surgery. Reg said he's "still sore" but coming along very well.

Sorry to hear Doug Berry had a run-in with a chainsaw and came out second best. He received a nasty gash near his knee. Hope all is well soon, Doug.

Some of you ladies who were here last week asked for the recipe of the squares so here goes: Cherry Chews: one cup sifted, all-purpose flour, one cup rolled oats, one cup brown sugar, one tsp. baking soda, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup butter, two eggs, one cup brown sugar, 1/2 tsp. almond extract, two tbsp. all-purpose flour, one tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, one cup coconut, one cup well-drained maraschino cherries, halved or chopped, 1/2 cup pecans or walnuts, chopped.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Mix one cup flour, oats, one cup brown sugar, soda and 1/4 tsp. salt. Add butter and mix until crumbly, first with a fork then with fingers.

Press mixture into bottom of a greased 13x9x2 inch baking pan.

Bake 10 minutes. Beat eggs, stir in one cup brown sugar and almond extract. Mix two tbsp. flour, baking powder and 1/2 tsp. salt and stir in. Add coconut and cherries and stir to blend. Pour over base and spread evenly. Sprinkle with pecans. Return to oven and bake 25 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool and ice with Cherry Almond Icing: three tbsp. soft butter, two cups sifted icing sugar, two tbsp. maraschino cherry juice, 1/4 tsp. almond extract.

Blend butter and sugar. Add cherry juice and almond extract using enough juice to make icing easy to spread. Stir until smooth.

St. James A.C.W. in Kinmount held their annual Christmas tea/bake sale/bazaar in the Parish Hall, Saturday, November 27 and it was a tremendous success. Thanks to everyone who helped in any way and of course a big thank you to everyone who turned out to have a delicious lunch and buy some nice gifts and home baking. The hall was very festive with all the pretty decorations and everyone seemed to enjoy their visit.

A sad note followed though, when Bill and Win Wilson received a phone call from the states advising them of the very sudden death of Bill's youngest sister. Bill and Win left immediately to be with family but are now back home at RR1 Kinmount. Our sincere sympathy at this time Bill and Win.

On the sick list recently: Alex Graham, Mary L. Pyke, Bertha Stata, Mary O'Toole to name but a few. Hope everyone is feeling much better by now. Let's blame the weather! Who ever heard of pouring rain for so many days along with fog, thunder and lightening weeks before Christmas?

Congratulations to the lady who won the bingo jackpot on number 48 and the 57th number at Kinmount Legion last Friday evening.

Some 40 fans "attended" the Grey Cup Games at the Kinmount Legion where they saw the game via the tube and enjoyed a delicious lunch.

Janet and Tony Abela and family of T.J.'s here in our town are presently enjoying the company of Tony's mom and aunt, Margaret Abela and Olive Saint visiting from Newcastle, England.

Well folks, Bill and I have at this date, Saturday, December 4, begun moving back to the Avenue. Don't know how long it will take but if I'm still around next week at this time I hope you will be too. Stay healthy and happy -- 488-2353 (I hope).

by GLADYS KRELLER

Hi everybody, with the kind of weather that we have been having lately it is very hard to think of Christmas as being only about two weeks away -- but in fact it is only 17 days.

The Sunday School Christmas concert was held at The Maple Lake United Church on Sunday, December 5, and was a great success. There are 40 children in the Sunday School and all the children participated in the activities to make it a most enjoyable evening.

There were solos by Sherry Grundstrom, Terry - Lynn Barry and Kandra Kreller, and duets by Chris Whiteside and Jerry Griffin, Jennifer Armstrong and Leslie Whiteside and Merrie Barry and Sue Whiteside. Each class also did a play or skit. The pre-primary class which consists of children four to six years old, recited "The Friendly Beasts" and looked so cute in their costumes of different animals.

The primary class, age seven and eight were the ten Christmas brownies.

The junior class, which are nine and ten year olds did a very funny play called "Charlie Brown's Christmas," which was very well acted out with Stephen Barry as Charlie Brown and Jennifer Armstrong as Lucy, Kevin Kreller as Linus, Tracy Simms as Violet, Jeffrey Haley as Pig Pen and David MacAusland as a very cute Snoopy.

The intermediate class, 11 and 12 year olds, did a play called "What Child is This," the story of the first Christmas.

The teen class put on a play about a very greedy boy at Christmas and his selfish sister. Darryl Goodall and Stephanie Barrie were hilarious in their parts. Debbie Barry played Santa Claus and let the greedy boy pick out his gift, which was the biggest in Santa's bag and turned out to be a box full of greed.

After talking to the elf which was played by Kandra Kreller, he changed his mind about being greedy and Santa let him pick another gift which was unselfishness, and he wanted to go around with Santa and share his own gifts with the needy children around the world. Kenny Kreller and Brandy Grundstrom were the parents of the children.

The very large congregation also sang Christmas carols.

Darryl Goodall was the narrator for the white gift service which followed the concert.

Santa Claus visited the children downstairs in the church later and gave each child a very nice gift and some candy.

The United Church Women had a very nice lunch set up for everyone after the concert.

A lot of planning and rehearsals went into this very successful concert and the teachers worked very hard. I have to tip five good neighbour hats this week to the Sunday School teachers, who planned this concert and held rehearsals and picked the children up and drove them home again. Thank you Merrie Barry, Sue Whiteside, Wendy Armstrong, Lee Anne Goodall and Diane Cowan.

I have a very old German cook book with some strange recipes in it and I thought that I would share some of them with you. If you want to lose weight: first restore digestion, take plenty of sleep, drink all the water the stomach will bear in the morning on rising, take moderate exercise in the open air, eat oatmeal, cracked wheat, Graham mush, baked sweet apples, roasted and broiled beef, cultivate jolly people and bathe daily.

Let us hear of any visiting relatives and friends or special events taking place during this holiday season.

If anyone has any news that they would like printed in the Potpourri column please call me at 754-3005 or write it out and drop it in the Silver Valley Store or the house behind the store.

Norland Natter

by Kelly Graham

Hi! How are you all this week? I'm fine, however, I think several kids (including me) are slightly nervous about the report cards coming out next week. Not to mention the parent-teacher interviews two days later - ough!

Several weeks ago Bill Quenell was seriously injured by a falling tree. He was hospitalized for quite some time, but is home now and recovering nicely. I'm sorry I didn't report at the time of injury, but I just learned of the accident recently.

The winner of the hockey pool for Saturday, November 27 was Helen Graham. Helen is Bill Moss's sister-in-law. Some families have all the luck!

Although it is not official yet, it seems likely that our local council, Laxton, Digby, and Longford, may be administering a winter work project. Reeve, Dave Graham indicated that work may be provided for up to seven or eight people. This should be a tremendous help to some of the many unemployed in the area.

During the past week, many pupils from Norland

Public School, including myself, have been treated at the Ministry of Health's dental coach. The coach, which will be parked in the school playground for the next eight to ten months is run by Dr and Mrs Banting. They are doing a lot of expensive dental work free. Unfortunately this offer is open to public school students only.

The Anglican church bazaar held in Kinmount last Saturday, November 27 was a great success. Several people from Norland attended and many bargains were had.

How many of you watched the Grey Cup game last Saturday? I was glued to the set from 11:30 to 5:00 taking in all pre and post game shows as well as the game. My team lost -- but just wait 'til next year!

The euchre scores for Thursday, December 2 are as follows: ladies' high, Mary Ann Chynoweth; men's high, Mike Puterbaugh and lone hands Susie Lighfoot.

Well that's just about it for this week, if you have any newsworthy items, please call me at 454-3707. Talk to you next week!

Belated 50th anniversary wishes to Theodore and Dorothy Cragg who celebrated quietly on November 9 with her sister, Mrs. Adelaide McLennan at Blackstock, and her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cragg in Lindsay.

Congratulations to Art and Ann Griffin who celebrate their 50th this week-end, December 4.

Mrs. Mary Henderson went to hospital by ambulance on Wednesday. We wish you get well wishes Marj, and hope your hospital stay will not be long.

Winners in the senior's card games held on Tuesday were as follows: Euchre: ladies first, Greta Reeds, 72; second, Rae Brock, 68; consolation, Alice Madill, 47; most lone hands, Viola Dickson, four; gent's first, Ross Faulkner, 76; second, Laurie Barkwell, 73; consolation, Gordon Madill, 34; and most lone hands, Ken Bowins, four.

Bridge winners were: first, Alex Gagne, 5620; second, Rose Rocchio, 4740, and consolation, May Taylor, 570.

Mrs. Ethel Everson passed away in Lindsay this week. She was a sister of the late Dick, Tom and Bill Rutter, all Cobocok residents and Ethel lived here many years ago.

Our sympathy to the many relatives who are left to mourn her passing. She was buried in Lindsay.

Congratulations to Mrs. Ella Caister who celebrates her "over 80" birthday this week.

Mrs. Annie Marles and Mrs. Denna White of Calgary spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fisher at Lindsay, and also visited Mrs. Ada Irwin in Lindsay and Mrs. Ada Irwin accompanied them where they visited her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tamlin at Cambray.

It's not too soon to think of New Years, and two local organizations have tickets on sale for your New Years celebrations.

The Legion is booking now and also the Lion's Club. Support your own community and do your celebrating right here at home.

Yours truly and husband, and Mrs. Denna White all enjoyed dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lake and family at Stroud last Saturday evening.

Hope you are enjoying the summer-like weather. Unbelievable for December!

Forest management record

by RON REID
Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Two issues have particularly concerned Ontario environmentalists over the past three years - the poor record in regenerating our northern forests, and the Province's habit of exempting important activities from the Environmental Assessment Act. Now the two issues are merging with a decision due before the end of the year on how the environmental legislation will be applied to forest management.

The Ministry of Natural Resources, which is responsible for forestry, has resisted strongly any moves to bring their activities under the 1975 E.A. Act. They have been operating under a series of temporary exemptions, designed to allow them time to develop suitable environmental guidelines, but their last exemption expires on December 31. So far, no decision has been made on how the deadlock between MNR and the Ministry of Environment over this issue will be broken.

In a brief submitted to the two ministers, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists argued strongly that a comprehensive environmental assessment is necessary. Forestry is big business in Ontario, with 51 million acres of public land committed to sustain the industry. Close to half-a-million acres are cleared every year to feed the mills, and the conflicts between this massive logging and wildlife, fisheries, recreation, native groups, and the tourism industry are enormous. MNR claims that it is committed to a policy of multiple use of the forest, but in fact there are very few safeguards to ensure that these other uses are fairly considered when forest harvesting is planned.

Perhaps one of the reasons for MNR resistance is their reluctance to reveal the chaos

HCFA meeting very well attended nature of an agricultural land use cooperative, for both interested private land owners and cleared crown land, where such land would be made available on a long-term lease basis to interested farmers, at nominal rents.

Contrary to some notions in the ministry's draft land use strategy, there are several examples within our association where poor farmland has been brought up to productive standards with proper, long-term applications of lime and fertilizer.

I have no knowledge whether such a plan has any practical application or support among area farmers; however, I'd be pleased to hear your thoughts on the subject. I really believe it is something we should give more careful scrutiny.

An item of some excitement is the efforts of Sharon Greer to form a local goat-keepers association. Such a group would meet to discuss items of interest to those of you who keep goats. Topics may range from health and maintenance of your herd; to registration of purebred stock and breeding to upgrade your present animals; to marketing goat products, be they dairy produce or meat.

Sharon Greer owns and operates Maple Hill Farm, where she and her husband Roy keep registered nubian and alpine goats. As part of her interest in up-grading area goat herds she is presently offering registered buck service at nominal rates.

In conjunction with the establishment of the new goat association a raffle will be widely accepted cuisine. Perhaps we should be considering something in the held for new members, for which prizes of registered stock will be presented. Sharon Greer's enthusiasm for goats is contagious. If you are interested in joining in the meetings, would like more information, or would just like to discuss goats, give Sharon a call at 286-1073.

Finally, this will be my last column for the year so I'll take this opportunity to wish you all the best!

Plastic Bags

The Plastic Bags with coming events are now being made up. The committee that prepared the descriptions of events were overwhelmed by the great response they received for events to be listed. They apologize, however, that space allowed them to only list the date, event name and location with no other details. They also had to eliminate bazaars and bake sales along with regular weekly events such as lawn bowling or curling.

It may be necessary in future programs of this kind to break the order down into two six-month periods in order to carry all events. The committee thanks all of those who provided us with events and information.

I would like to thank my family, relatives and friends, for the beautiful flowers, gifts, visits, cards, phone calls, and prayers while I was a patient in Peterborough Civic Hospital and since coming home. A special thanks to Dr. Martyn, Dr. Hartwick and Dr. Broad and to the nurses in intensive care and on the Fourth floor, you are just super. So on behalf of my husband Floyd and myself again, Thank You, it was really appreciated. Marjorie Tighe 27-P-8

I would like to say thank you to my family, friends and acquaintances for all the support, phone calls, visits, cards, flowers and home-cooked meals I received while I was a patient at Sunnybrook Hospital and during my convalescence at home. To say thank you does not seem to be enough for all the kindnesses that have come my way recently. I only hope that I can someday, in some way, return something to those who have so generously given to me. Sincerely, Debra Dart 27-P-8

32. IN MEMORIAM

In remembrance of our dear mother, MARTHA ROBERTSON, who passed away December 11, 1981.

God took the sunshine from the skies
And made the lovelight in your eyes
From honeyed flowers He took the dew
And made your tears, unselfish true.
Upon a rock your faith He built
With angel prayers your breath He filled
And with His love made yours divine
But best of all He made you mine.

Deeply missed and fondly remembered by Ruby, Donna, Doris, Linda, Judy and families. 32-P-8

In loving memory of my wife, MARTHA ROBERTSON, who passed away December 11, 1981.

I have stored many treasures of love
And locked them deep in my heart.
Thoughts which you have given to me
And your smiles, which played a great part.
I have gathered volumes of wisdom
Which were dropped by you in the past,
They are treasured words of knowledge,
They are mine as long as years last.

Deeply missed and always remembered by husband Russell. 32-P-8
